Another important milestone for Hang Lung is Heartland 66 in Wuhan, the capital city of Hubei Province.

On November 19, 2013, we held a groundbreaking ceremony for Heartland 66, our 10th development on the Mainland and one that will give us a major presence in the central region of the country. Wuhan is a focal point for the nation's "Rise of Central China" strategy, as well as being a key transportation hub. Both these factors will allow us to benefit from the economic development currently underway in the area.

Heartland 66 will be a showcase of modern architecture and design, bringing together the best of East and West. It will be our flagship project for central China and will comprise a world-class shopping mall, a Grade A office tower and serviced apartments covering a total gross floor area of 460,000 square meters (ground level or above and B1 commercial area, excluding car park areas).

Situated conveniently near light rail and mass railway connections, Heartland 66 enjoys an ideal location on Jinghan Da Dao in the vibrant Qiaokou District, the commercial and business heart of Wuhan. Scheduled for completion in phases from 2019, the shopping mall will be the first structure to be completed.
